Why Dress up?

Corporate events are about bringing people together to meet each other, celebrate, share ideas and experiences. Providing your guests with costumes to wear will add an extra dimension to the night that is guaranteed to make the event even more successful.

The fun starts from the moment they put their costumes on and start making fun of each other. As the guests assume the role of the costume's character, the room is soon full of Brave Knights, Kings, Queens, Princesses, evil Barons, Nobles, Wenches, Men of the cloth and naturally the 'work barriers' soon disappear amidst the banter and bravado (and the inevitable reciting of lines from Monty Pythons 'Holy Grail').

Any photos of the night will now be rich with the mix of colourful costumes, every photo with its own story.

Like the guest's memories of the night, the photos will stand out whether featured in the company PR material or pride of place on individual's workstations or in breakout areas.

We consistently receive positive feedback about the quality of our service and costumes - see our testimonials for some examples.
